Objective

I'm an entrepreneur and tech strategist with a passion for building businesses, solving problems, and driving innovation. As the Founder of SoftDips, I lead a team delivering web development, SaaS solutions, and UI/UX design, along with developing Academitec, an educational management system.

Beyond tech, I've worked in technical sales, bridging the gap between Pakistani clients and Chinese manufacturers, and have hands-on experience in talent acquisition and business growth. From engineering to entrepreneurship, my journey has been all about learning, adapting, and creating impactful solutions.
